

Corporate Ring Back

The Hollywood Times is a corporate customer of Hollywood Telecom and has subscribed to Corporate Ring Back Tone. Whenever anyone calls a company mobile or fixed line number, this person hears a company message or jingle until the phone is answered.

Depending on what extension number is dialed, a different corporate tone is played.

Brad has decided to put a Valentine's Day greeting in the February 14th issue of the Hollywood Times and dials the advertising department.

While he's waiting for the agent to answer, he hears a commercial, in which the Times offers two adverts for the price of one.

When the agent answers, Brad decides to place two Valentine messages in the Hollywood Times, one for Angelina and one for Jennifer.
